

Do you know what to do when you are involved in a car wreck?

If you have any aches, pains or medical conditions caused by the wreck I may be able to recover money for you. Get an evaluation by a medical doctor for any symptoms caused by the wreck, immediately. Secure pictures of any visible aspect of any injury to your body and of any damage to any vehicle or object you occupied or came in contact with.

The value of your claim is higher if you were not at fault in causing the wreck. However, I want you to call me even if the wreck was all your fault. Even if the wreck was your fault I may be able to recover money for you through coordinating insurance benefits or negotiating with providers.

Success may depend on applicable insurance provisions. You don't have to pay me anything to find out if I can recover money for you. My fee can be a percentage of the total amount recovered. If anything is recovered I deliver a payment check to you.

Success will depend on the actions you take. Call me, whether the wreck was your fault or not.

What if you caused the wreck and someone else was injured. Guess what, your insurance company is supposed to protect you. You are not going to feel protected if you get sued, have to testify, have to go to court or pay any additional money out of your own pocket. After all you paid a premium to be protected from these things when you bought car insurance. Why shouldn't you be protected to the full extent of the coverage you paid for?

In Mississippi injured victims can't just sue the insurance company for the driver who caused the wreck like they can in Louisiana. Our law requires that the injured victim first sue the driver who caused the wreck. That means if you are at fault and your insurance company doesn't settle, you get sued not your insurance company. Don't let your insurance company get you sued when an insurance payment will settle the matter. Minimum coverage is now $25,000. If your insurance company isn't protecting you to the full extent of your coverage get an independent lawyer.

I've been representing people injured in car wrecks for 20 years. I am here to tell you most injured people don't want to be in a lawsuit either. They don't want to testify or go to court. They just want to be compensated fairly for their injuries. Injured victims will rarely sue if the responsible insurance company offers to pay full coverage.

My mission is to make insurance companies pay full coverage for car wreck injuries, and preferably without a lawsuit. I don't represent any insurance companies and never have. You won't have to worry about whose interest I am looking out for.
